INTRODUCTION

Yet another glorious year passes away adding significant achievements to the annals of the history of our great University, the first and the mother University in the State of Kerala. Our University, established on 1st November, 1937 as University of Travancore through a royal promulgation of His Highness Shri Chithira Tirunal Balarama Varma, the last Maharajah of the erstwhile princely State of Travancore, has been the Alma-mater to several lakh people. The University, which was later renamed "University of Kerala" in 1957 after the formation of the State of Kerala, has moulded millions of students into Professionals.

The year 2015 has been most benevolent to the University, in the form of National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) accrediting our University with "A" Grade and with the conferment of the First Chancellor's Award 2014-2015 for the best University in Kerala. The Chancellor's Award, the first of its kind in the history of higher education in Kerala carries prize money of Rs. 5 Crores, a Citation and Trophy. This Award, conferred to the University by the Hon'ble Chancellor based on the recommendations of a five member selection committee headed by the Additional Chief Secretary to the Government, after assessing various specific components that play crucial role in the quality of higher education.

The University has always strived to achieve better and all the above achievements were made solely due to wholehearted and collective efforts of all stakeholders of the University, especially the Faculty, Students and Employees. Over the years, the University has grown, striving for excellence in teaching, learning and research, with a wide range of departments, from the 100 year old Oriental Research Institute (ORI) & Manuscripts Library housing rare ancient manuscripts of more than 500 years old, to a department with cutting edge and emerging technology in the form of Department of Computational Biology and Bioinformatics.

Now the expectations are bigger than before and we determined to meet the same and we hope all these recognitions will inspire us to dream for better.

VICE CHANCELLOR

Other note worthy events

The UGC-HRDC, University of Kerala has been placed as the 'best run' institution among 66 ASCs in the country in conducting maximum number of courses by ensuring quality and active participation of University/ College teachers. This was announced at the All India Directors Meet of ASC's held at Punjab University on 8th & 9th September 2014. This institution has been maintaining the 'top position' consecutively for the last ten years.

COMPUTER CENTRE

Computer Centre was setup in the University of Kerala in 1977 for providing computer facilities for research, academic and administrative activities. To meet the new requirements, Computer Centre has taken up new challenges of providing IT services and thereby, powering the administration and examination activities in the University. The Centre has repositioned itself as a software development and training centre which catering to the needs of the higher education sector. Computer Centre acts as a supporting division of the University in different computerization and IT enabling activities. The department is fully focused to provide every possible technical support to all the other sections and departments in the University.

1. Computerization of Examinations

Needless to say, we have computerized most of our examination related activities and have almost ensured operations in a paperless manner. A comprehensive web portal is provided to the college staff, University staff and students with all the online facilities which one could imagine. Computer Centre this year has developed web-based software for providing examination related services to all the stakeholders significant advances in ensuring private students and candidates affiliated to SDE are given best-in-class online facilities which our regular students have been enjoying over the past few years.

Computer Centre now has implemented online examination registration for all courses and students - both regular and private. Through this system, lots of students have benefited who now have access to various online functions with just the click of a button.

1.1 Private / SDE Exam Registration

Online Exam Registration for private students and candidates admitted to SDE in the year 2014 was made online for the first time. This included data conversion, candidate code allotment, application verification, exam registration, hall ticket release and exam center definition. Once the candidate code allotment was completed, students were given provision to upload their photographs and signatures and to specify preferred examination centers. The list of examination centers shown to candidates varied dynamically based on the seat vacancy left for a particular course. The section staff was also given provision to verify the student details before releasing hall tickets to eligible candidates.

The development of functionalities related to tabulation, result publishing, awarding degree etc. is still in progress. This is expected to be completed by end of this year.

1.2 Private and SDE Registration for Admissions

The website for registration of new Private and SDE aspirants for admissions was developed this year, and was launched in the month of September. The concerned section staff did live testing of the developed application, and gave approval for the same before the roll-out. Around 17000 private candidates have attempted registration so far, of which almost 16000 have completed online admission process. Unfortunately, the registration for SDE aspirants is discontinued as of now (in line with the directions from UGC), and will be renewed as soon as necessary orders are issued in this regard. Earlier, the SDE staffs were given extensive training on the software, and thus, are currently managing the application. Additional administrative facilities are available for the section, which includes facility to view, edit and verify application details with provisions to send defect memo, rejection memo and private registration memo. There will be also facility to verify and validate the fee details of all the courses.

1.3 Examination Software Password Reset

Automatic password reset was enabled for examination website. This can be used by students for resetting their password. Candidates are asked to submit their candidate code and branch of study. Mail id given at time of enrolment will be automatically populated and once request is submitted, the new password will be sent to their email id.

1.4 Visual Arts – Online Entrance Registration and Hall ticket

Online exam registration for Post-Graduation program in Visual Arts was developed early this year. This included student registration, student login and issue of online hall ticket. Facilities for section staff to verify / reject students, choose examination center, and to upload hall ticket are also available. In addition, the section staff can take Nominal Roll and other relevant reports from the online system.

1.5 Entrance Examinations

Like the previous years, Computer centre carried out online registration for Ph D and M.Phil entrance examinations in co-ordination with the concerned section. Both University staff and students were benefited using this system. Our staff‘s monotonous work also got reduced to a large extent. Moreover, for M.Phil courses, the Computer Centre also prepared and shared the ranklist of registered applicants to be used during the admission process.

1.6 Student Life Cycle Management

A new system was planned to be developed this year which will bring the various student oriented modules under a single umbrella. These modules included student service, enrolment, exam registration, time table setting, nominal roll, result announcement, revaluation, scrutiny, awarding degree certificate etc. The implementation was carried out in an incremental manner with presentations to the section staff and other experts on a timely basis. Currently, the development team is concentrating on implementing the security aspects in the software where only an authorized person positioned within an authorized premise is allowed access to the system.

1.7 Online Question Paper

To automate question paper preparation and distribution to the examination centres, Computer Centre introduce a new system last year for our University. With this system, the principals of examination centres can download question paper in the time allotted by University. This facility was put to use for the first time for conducting BSLPA 6th semester examination at NISH. Question paper code setting and selection activities were done from the Controller's office and automatic mails were sent to NISH to an email-id created exclusively for NISH at KU Mail server. Question paper was successfully downloaded from NISH at the time set by the Controller. This November, MCA exams were also successfully conducted in the same manner using Online Question Paper.

1.8 Other Exam Development Activities

The computerization of BVoc course was started early this year and the rules and regulations of the course are now mapped to the newly developed system. Once feasibility of BVoc is verified, the same will be extended to other courses as well.

One of the major changes made in the work-flow this year is in the way results are published. Earlier, whenever the section wanted to publish the result, they would forward the same to the Computer Centre who will put up the results for them. From the current year on, this over-head is avoided, and the sections are given provisions to publish the result themselves, rather than mediating through the Computer Centre. In this way, lots of file requests to Computer Centre for publishing results have come down sharply.

For enhancing the student experience of the examination website, the students who were not allowed to edit their already submitted registration data, are now able to correct the same using their login. This change has significantly brought down lot of data correction requests and queries to the section staff.

Moreover, the Online Revaluation Software which was developed last year has been modified to send revaluation memo online. Student will now have provision to download the memo from the examination login.

The much awaited software for online exam attendance was developed and implemented for CBCS and B-Tech 2008 scheme courses. This application has the facility to enter and verify attendance details.

2. New Website Development

2.1 Kerala University Main Website

Early this year, it was decided to completely revamp the Kerala University website with a fresh, simple and attractive design. This was primarily aimed to overcome issues and concerns related to maintenance of the current website. So, as part of this initiative, numerous meetings were organized between the Computer Centre and the expert committee members which included the PVC, PRO and other officials from various departments. The development of the new site is almost over, and is open for verification by the concerned staff members. All the department staffs based on their roles and privileges can add/modify/delete contents shown on the website. The HOD will have access to all the web contents shown on his/her department page. The testing of the application by expert committee members is currently underway, and the website is expected to be rolled out as soon as we receive a 'go ahead' from these eminent members.

2.2. IQAC Website Development

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) website was also renovated this year based on the suggestions from the IQAC team. The contents of all the existing web-pages were revisited. Moreover, many additional pages were newly designed and implemented. The new IQAC website is currently managed by the Computer Centre and is hosted in the State Data Centre.

3. Finance Software Development

3.1 Cash Counter Software Renovation

By the beginning of the current financial year, the software used at the Cash Counter was also revamped. The application which was used previously was out-dated, and had lot of issues like frequent server crashes, inability to generate reports etc. With the new application developed using the latest technology, all of these issues were addressed. The development of the new software commenced in the year 2014 itself, and after due deliberations and consultations with the Cash Counter officials, the application was rolled out for use on April 1st, 2015. It is worth noting that the cash data for both Palayam and Kariavattom Campuses is maintained in the server hosted at the Computer Centre.

3.2 Asset Management Module

The Finance Section over the years has been facing many problems related to the management and computation of the real value of total material assets available with the University. All these calculations are currently done manually by each department, which unfortunately lacks accuracy and also is very time consuming. In order to simplify this process, the Computer Centre has now developed an Asset Management Software which computes the total asset value of all the products available with the University at any given time. This application also takes into account the depreciation percentage of every product under various categories to compute the aggregate asset value. The staff members or HODs of every department act as administrators who initially enter the assets, the year of purchase, their categories and the depreciation percentage. The system will then compute the value of each asset based on these parameters, and help the concerned sections to obtain the status in a more reliable and accurate manner. The development of the software is in its final stages, with the presentation to the finance section planned in the coming days.

4. UG/PG/CSS Admissions 2015-16

The UG Admissions for 2015 was one of our success stories this year, as it got through without any major issues or complaints. This news has truly reinforced our faith in the quality of our admission/ allotment software. As many as 76,000 aspirants registered for UG Admissions, out of which around 28,000 got admissions to our affiliated colleges under various quotas. Currently, the enrolment process is underway for registering the admitted candidates to the examination module.

The PG Admissions software for the year 2015 was re-developed from scratch using a different technology and with many additional features. The development started early this year based on the rules mentioned in the prospectus; and we were able to deliver a reliable system which didn't had a single erroneous allotment due to problems in the software.

The CSS Admission software was also developed this year for conducting admission to various University departments. The Computer Centre enabled online registration of aspirants, and prepared a rank-list based on the candidate's entrance and academic marks. This rank-list was later shared with the CSS department at Kariavattom for admitting eligible students.

5. IT and Management Training Centre

The Computer Centre this year has set up a Training Centre for organizing trainings for the University staff and outsiders. This Training Centre has around 30 Desktop stations installed, along with projector and other facilities. Once in full swing, the fee collected from the training sessions here would earn substantial additional revenue for the University over long term. The training schedule is currently being prepared, and the training session is expected to start in the near future. Our aim is to provide proper training in IT and its management to all the stakeholders in order to make them IT ready.

6. Network Security

IT has become an integral part of our present day work culture; and thus the Computer Centre has given paramount importance to the security of our networks. It gives us protection from external threats like viruses, worms, hacker attacks, Denial-of-Service attacks, data interception and theft. The process of implementing network security at Payalam and Kariavattom campuses is in progress, and is expected to be completed by end of this year.

7. Consultancy Services Undertaken

7.1 Kannur University Admission Software

Backed by the experience and phenomenal success of conducting the UG online allotment and admission process for the past 3 years, Kerala University this year had decided to spread its wings and go global. Yes!! As what could be seen as a major accomplishment and thumping recognition of our UG admission software, Kannur University this year had come up and expressed its strong interest in obtaining our consultancy services for running its first ever UG online admission process for its affiliated colleges.

The Computer Centre by this way was able to generate additional revenue worth Rs.25lakh for the University by successfully undertaking and implementing this project.

Our work, dedication, and the quality of the software was unequivocally appreciated not just by the Kannur University officials who were supervising the admission process, but also by the affiliated colleges for whom the complexity and the emotional strain involved with admissions had now become a thing of the past.

It is worth noting that the Computer Centre and its staff had left no stone unturned to ensure that there is zero compromise on the quality of the admission process for both Kerala and Kannur Universities, as any minor issue related to the allotment/admission would have spoiled the name of our esteemed institution; and would have even dampened our prospects of getting any similar consultancy works in the future.

The successful completion of this project has really taken our pride and esteem among our peers to newer heights. No doubt, this has turned out to be another priceless feather in our cap.

7.2 High Performance Computing for RGCB

A High Performance Computing Facility has been installed to the Bioinformatics Lab, Rajiv Gandhi Centre for Biotechnology as the consultancy services by the Director, Computer Centre. Ministry of Science and Technology, Govt. of India funded for the HPC cluster.

7.3 Network Security for RGCB

The Network Security project has been initiated to Rajiv Gandhi Centre for Biotechnology as the consultancy services by the Director, Computer Centre.

POPULATION RESEARCH CENTRE

Sponsored by Ministry of Health and Family Welfare

Government of India

Year of Establishment: 1958

Director-in charge: Dr. P Mohanachandran Nair

Population Research Centre (PRC) attached to the University of Kerala was founded in 1958 with a mandate to address the issues of population control. The Centre has expanded its research areas to critical issues of population, health, gender and development over the years. The Centre is fully funded by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India and is part of the network of eighteen Population Research Centres throughout India. Initially it was formed as the Family Planning Communication and Action Research (FPCAR) project in the University of Kerala in the year 1958. Later in July 1983, the Centre got its institutional status as Population Research Centre when the Demographic Research Centre under the Government of Kerala and the FPCAR Project were merged together. The Centre now occupies an area of about 261 square meters of the new second floor of the existing building constructed with grant-in-aid from the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. The Centre is a fully developed PRC with 4 faculty positions and 13 technical staff. The year 2008-09 marked the Golden Jubilee Year of its existence.

The main focus of the Population Research Centre is performing policy oriented research. It undertakes good quality research works and addresses significant issues in the field of Population, Reproductive and Child Health, Family welfare, Health and Development. Presently PRCs in India have been designated as Nodal Agencies to monitor the National Health Mission (NHM) activities in India. PRC works in coordination with the State Health Department by taking up different projects assigned by the Kerala State Health Department. Also PRCs are involved in checking the data quality of Health Management Information System (HMIS) and Maternal and Child Tracking System (MCTS) in India. PRC Kerala monitors the data quality in Kerala.

The year 2015 began with the coveted A-grade re-accreditation by NAAC. The year ended with an equally coveted recognition for the University-the first Chancellors award for the best University of the State.

3. Annual Student Survey

An annual student survey was conducted during the 3–tier induction programme for post-graduate students on September 7, 2015. This was aimed at understanding the student cohort's social, academic, entrepreneurial, and aspirational background, so as to enable the teachers and administrators to serve them better. 148 questions were asked under 12 heads. 521 students (around 70%) of the new admission have taken part in this survey, making it a fairly representative one. Major Findings of the Annual Student Survey include: 86% of students are in age group of 20 – 22, 80% are female; highest qualification of parents of around 45% students is SSLC. ; 15% of students face some crisis in family; 4% of students have serious health issues; 69% of students wish to join M.Phil; 81% of students wish to go on to Ph.D.

4. Research Methodology Workshop

A workshop for research students was held in association with Research Union.

SURVEY RESEARCH CENTRE

Director, Dr. Josukutty C.A

The Survey Research Centre was established in 1979 and affiliated to the Department of Political Science with the objectives of imparting much needed training and guidance to teachers, researchers in collecting and analyzing data on socially relevant issues. The Survey Research Centre conducted three main activities during the year 2015. They are:

1. Conducted a study on State of Politics in Kerala: A Study
2. Conducted an Election survey on Aruvikkara Bye-election: A Study of Electoral Behavior
3. Prepared a report on the status on Fishermen community at Veli Coastal village, Trivandrum

The details are given below:-

I. State of Politics in Kerala: A Study

Objectives

1. To understand public perception about the nature of politics and governance in present day Kerala.
2. To study the opinion of civil society about credibility of political leadership in Kerala.
3. To analyze the pressures and compulsions that coalition government exert on infrastructure development and economic growth in Kerala.
4. To study public's perceptions on environment and development in relation to infrastructure development and economic growth.
5. To seek the opinion of the people on major welfare programmes and policies of the UDF on the body politic of Kerala.
6. To examine how do people differentiate between the policy and performance of various political parties in Kerala.
7. To evaluate the performance of UDF as the ruling party and LDF as the opposition during the last three years.
8. To seek the opinion of the public as to what changes they would prefer to have in the conduct of politics of the state to make it more accountable, transparent and responsive.

Methodology

The methodology adopted for the study is mainly empirical and analytical. A closed-ended questionnaire will be administered to the voters. A total of 14 LACs will be chosen (one from each district) giving due representation to all regions in the state. Logical representation will also be given to urban, semi-urban and rural areas. From each LAC, five Polling Stations will be identified using a random number table. Twenty samples will be collected from each PS. Samples will be chosen from the Electoral Roll published by the CEO Kerala. The total sample thus works out to be 1400 (5x20x14). Apart from this series of in-depth interviews will also be conducted with opinion leaders, media people, civil society representatives, politicians, NGOs, informed voters etc. The collected will be analyzed using SPSS.

Importance

The management of politics and government in Kerala is a complex task. Despite tall claims of good governance, there is a deep-rooted disenchantment of people with the way politics is conducted and government is run in the state.The 'Aam-Admi' yearns for some positive transformation in the governance of the state and in the conduct of politics and politicians. The study attempts to measure the level of appreciation, dissatisfaction and the desire for change among the people in the polity and society. Hence the significance of the study.

Output

A report of the study submitted to the University and published in the form of a book. Important findings of the study submitted to the policy makers. This will help the policy makers to frame better policies and the public to participate in politics constructively.

CENTRE FOR SYSTEMS & SYNTHETIC BIOLOGY

Hon. Director, Dr. Pawan K. Dhar

The Centre for Systems and Synthetic Biology has a group of research scholars under the guidance of Dr. Pawan K. Dhar and has made the centre to generate knowledge in the emerging areas of science - making novel biomolecules from non-protein coding regions of the genome. A genome wide scan of non-coding DNA sequences was carried out for various genomes so as to predict what would happen if one could artificially express these sequences. The work is published in two international journals (Springer and Oxford Journals) which indicate the possibility of making novel potential peptide and proteins of natural origin towards industrial and therapeutic applications. The details of the work are listed in the report of the Dept. of Computational Biology.

EXAMINATIONS

The augmentation and modernization of computer lab facilities in the Examination Wing have almost been completed. The ground floor of the Controller of Examinations Block has been redesigned to provide with all infrastructural facilities to accommodate the computerized tabulation sections and the Examination Computer Lab has also been expanded with sufficient space to accommodate 40 more computer work stations.

Most of the examinations were conducted as per the schedule based on the respective academic calendars and the results were also published in a time bound manner despite all constraints. The number of examinations to be conducted for the FDP CBCSS increased and for B.Tech it has been manifold this year as different schemes are running in parallel. The valuation/tabulation/revaluation works of both schemes are also required to be handled simultaneously. Priority was also given to the final semester examinations and the results of these examinations were published in a time bound manner which helped lot of students especially those who got placement in reputed organizations through campus recruitment. Based on the resolution of the Academic Council Special supplementary examinations were conducted for B.Tech students in addition to the routine examinations and valuation was done on a war footing.

The final semester PG examinations results were published almost a month earlier when compared to the previous year. The results of M.Tech examinations could also be published without much delay.

The introduction of the system of Online Question Papers was successfully carried out with the help of University Computer Centre. This system has been introduced for eight different courses. It is proposed to conduct the ensuing CBCSS S1 Supplementary examination through Online Question Paper mode. An online system for submitting applications for revaluation was successfully launched. Also communication of revaluation results has also been made online. The introduction of a system of issuing Provisional Certificates to eligible candidates alongwith their final semester marklists is on the anvil, which would be of immense help to the students.

Power Inverters have been installed in the QPR and EB Sections to tide over the frequent power failures that hamper the progress of confidential and time bound work in these Sections. The layout of the EB Sections dealing with confidential work of QP setting has been redesigned to provide more computer facilities. A small conference hall has been built adjacent to the C.E's Office which is utilized for exam confidential work.

Curbing malpractices in examination was keenly pursued by appointing district wise Malpractice Prevention Squad. Observers were posted in the examination centres outside the jurisdiction of the University. The Students Discipline Cell had 16 sittings during the year and disposed of 506 cases out of 697 examined.

The entrusted work of the conduct of entrance examinations for various courses, MBA (SDE), CSS PG Programmes, M.Phil programmes, MSW, BHMCT was also successfully undertaken.

A central computer lab has been installed in the C.E's building for the tabulation of CBCSS marks and early publication of results. With a view to provide more of additional block / extension facility for storage, valuation etc work in the examination wing is in progress.

The sincere co-operation extended by the teaching community, the hard work, dedication and excellent team spirit of the staff of the University are highly appreciated.
