CLAS Post Doctoral Fellowship

The Centre for Latin American Studies (CLAS), University of Kerala was established in 2015 to strengthen research and studies on Latin America and develop close bilateral ties between India and Latin America. For India, especially in Kerala, Latin America is significant in certain economic, political, and cultural factors. Latin America greatly influences the socio-political, cultural and agricultural spheres of Kerala. Given the need for consolidating the relations between India and Latin America and enhancing the research in this area, the Centre for Latin American Studies (CLAS) calls for applications for a post-doctoral fellowship to identify and encourage researchers whose work will support research in various aspects of Latin American Studies.

About the Fellowship/Grant

The Centre grants a post-doctoral research fellowship worth Rs 50,000 per month to one selected applicant for one year.

Name of the Fellowship: CLAS Post Doctoral Fellowship

No. of Fellowship: One

Tenure: One year

Selection Criteria

The applicants must have a PhD degree and should have at least two publications in UGC CARE-listed/Scopus-indexed journals. They should demonstrate evidence of superior academic and professional engagement. They should demonstrate adequate knowledge of Latin American affairs. The applicants should submit a detailed proposal of their research work within the scope of Latin American Studies. The proposal should have the following components: a statement of purpose, a statement of the problem, the significance of the topic and research gap, theoretical framework and methodology, a work plan, and a list of 15 major books and articles related to the topic.
